Holiday Marketing Network

Appearing on more quality sites means your property is likely to be seen by more people in a variety of market segments. Our network covers the following and more.

Family holidays

Families are an important market segment and so many sites on the network focus on this profitable market.

Romantic escapes

What could be better for those romantic escapes that beautiful countryside, wood burning fires and four poster beds. Our network includes a number of sites aimed at couples looking for that ideal romantic escape.

Baby & Pet friendly

Many people are specifically looking for a holiday property that can cater for the whole family... whether it includes babies or pets. The network has sites that provide choice for this audience.

Luxury breaks

With sites that specifically target the luxury end of the market. If your property is 4 or 5 star rates then you can reach travellers who are looking for that something extra special.

Active holidays

Golf, fishing, surfing... we have sites aimed at these active and high spending travellers. Whether your accommodation is en-route or close by, your property could provide a perfect location.

Beach and Country

While the network includes a number of sites that focus on the UK coast, there are also many that target rural retreats across the Britain.

Cottages and Self Catering

The network has web sites that focus on both of these important search phrases to maximise your advertising opportunities.

UK, national and regional sites

Our network includes websites that target customers on a UK, national and regional level. Sites target all regions from the west country to Scotland and Ireland.

6 great reasons to join HMN

Holiday Marketing Network

.com

Here are 6 excellent reasons to sign up with the Holiday Marketing Network today.

30+ websites

Be included on 30+ web sites, many of which do not accept private advertisers. Most other sites will charge you a fee, often higher than ours, for listing on just one site.

No commission

We do not charge any sales commission - you've earned it so its all yours. With the Holiday Marketing Network you just pay one annual fee to advertise your property on all the relevant properties on the network.

Only one form

Normally advertising on 30+ sites would require you to complete 30+ online forms. Not with us, one form will get you live on all our sites.

New sites Free

Our network is growing fast and the great news is that your property will automatically be added to all the relevant new sites at no extra cost.

Featured page & Blog

Even if you do not have your own website, you will have your own featured page and your listing will appear in our google-friendly Blog.

Inbound links

30+ inbound links from relevant websites will be good for your web traffic and good for your own sites performance on search engines (experts agree that relevant inbound links helps improve search engine position)

New services

What's more you will have access to some exciting new products and services that we will be launching in the coming months including a commission free online booking calendar.

The Holiday Marketing Network gives independent property owners the chance to advertise on 30+ successful independent websites.

Introducing

Holiday Marketing Network was established by two experienced marketers Simon & Stuart. Between them they have over 40 years of marketing experience with some of the UK's leading blue chip companies and 20 years of online travel and accommodation marketing expertise.

Building on their understanding and experience of the cottage and self catering accommodation market, Simon and Stuart recognised that there was an opportunity to bring property owners together with established and successful web site owners.

This idea blossomed in to the Holiday Marketing Network - a network of more than 30 web sites and an ever growing number of owners. Each owner is guaranteed to see their property promoted across the network of sites for just one annual fee, the completion of one form and absolutely NO commission

The Holiday Marketing Network is growing fast and has ambitious growth plans that will benefit all of its owner members.
